

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXII.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 1894.

NO. 12

HUSTONVILLE.

—Mr. John Riffe has gone to Somerset.

—The Banghman children that were hurt by a runaway horse a few days since are again in school.

—Mr. McAfee, who has been sick for the last two weeks, is improving and we hope to see him out soon.

—Sam Lusk, who is attending school at Alleghany Academy, Lexington, is here on a visit to his mother.

—The rains have put a stop to plowing and cold weather seems to be the prevailing fashion of the weather this spring.

—The contract for writing by-laws and ordinances of the town were let by bids, the lowest bidder being Mrs. Henry Camnitz, $45.25.

—Mr. Tilden Cook, of the staff of the I. J., was in town Sunday. We think he brought his "minner" back from the play at Stanford. There is no "Morse" on Tilden's feet.

—Mrs. Donoldson, daughter, and son are visiting Mrs. Jennie Carpenter and her son, Crawford, who is attending Christian College. They are from Shelby county and we hope they may be able to stay long with us.

—Grammar teaches us that we may admire beauty but not taste it. That was the case with the "Orchestra" that discoursed such sweet music for "Katie Dean" that played at Stanford last Saturday night. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

—One of Stanford's oldest citizens told your correspondent that Hustonville is one place that will always feel more like home to him than any other place on earth, that he went there when quite young and spent his summer days there, the happiest of his life. As he is now on the shady side of life we invite him back to the scenes of his childhood and there in peace to live the rest of his good life.

—The barn of Mr. G. C. Lyon was burned Saturday afternoon. How the fire originated is unknown, perhaps combustion of heated hay was the cause. There were two fine horses in the barn but the fire in the hay spread so fast that it was impossible to save them. Had some few machines but none of any great worth. He also lost about 100 barrels of corn. The loss will amount to $2,000 with no insurance.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—It is now the proper paper to have your wedding presents stolen. The advertisement is immense. But the stars of the stage who used to play the scheme with their diamonds, simply smile, or laugh low and sweetly as they read these thrilling stories.

—Mr. Ned Wiseman, of Danville, will lead to the altar on the 25th of this month, Miss Grace Hollinshead, of Dayton, O. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride in Dayton. Mr. Wiseman is well-known and liked here, where he formerly attended school. His intended bride is known to be a most charming young lady.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Mrs. Cathbert Buititt, of Louisville, has written another card upon the Breckinridge case, her first having been the occasion of so much adverse comment. She says: The moral which I wished to convey in that card was: If women would only conduct themselves properly on all occasions, and be only true to their own womanhood, we would never have such men as Col. Breckinridge to contend with, and I say so still, regardless of the opinions of the public, the press or the whole world. And! for one woman, have the independence and moral courage to not only proclaim this opinion, but to defend it to life's end. I am very hard on my own sex, I confess, and when I give sympathy to any one it will never be misplaced. I have as much "Christian charity" as any of my sex, but it will never go out to any full-fledged, fallen female who willfully gives up all she possesses—her virtue—for a "ten-dollar-bill," a mess of pottage, a congressman, or, indeed, any price, and then pleads seduction. I repeat, both are to blame and should suffer. The woman I blame far more than the man.

—The highest court of Mexico has confirmed the death sentence recently passed upon Charles Adams, the American who killed a waiter in a restaurant in the city of Mexico three years ago. Adams will be shot within the next few days.

—The pop Governor of South Carolina is out in an interview predicting political earthquakes and cyclones, denouncing the democratic administration, and demanding a political union of the South and West on a free-coinage platform.

—Three students of the Baptist Mission College at Wewoka, the capital city of the Seminole Indian Nation, murdered a fellow student by throwing him from a third-story window. The victim was an Indian boy.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, Druggist, Stanford.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. J. O. Rust, of Bardstown, who held a grand revival at the Baptist church several years ago, is conducting a meeting at Lebanon.

—A protracted meeting commenced at the Baptist church last night, in which the pastor will be assisted by another preacher in a few days.

—Pastor H. F. Taylor writes from Harrodsburg: "Closed a good meeting at High Bridge on the 23rd inst., with 18 additions.—Western Record.

—India in 1851 had 91,000 christian converts. To-day there are 250,000 Hindu Christians and 1,000,000 adherents to Christian churches. The number of converts last year was 24,000.

—The New York Methodist Episcopal Conference demands the expulsion of Col. Breckinridge from Congress to show the public abhorrence of his depraved life and as the only atonement that can be made to that Christian sentiment which he has so grossly outraged.

—The Advocate says of Rev. J. O. A. Vanght's meeting: There have been more than 30 conversions during the meeting now in progress at the Methodist church. Between 30 and 40 of these will join the Methodist congregation and the others will go to the other churches in town.

—It is now pretty generally known that there is to be a great celebration at the close of the 19th century, and the ushering in of the 20th. A great deal of effort is being made to carry out a very unique, though grand plan. It is proposed that the Columbian Liberty and Peace Bell be rung on the spot where the shepherds heard the chorus of angelic voices proclaim, "Peace on earth, good will towards men." The idea is to have the bell connected to all parts of the world by telegraph and cable. Then at a specified time all telegraphic business is to be suspended, every congregation in the religious world be assembled in its place of meeting, each having a wire connected with the Jerusalem wire, and simultaneously the bell be rung and the message of "peace" be flashed over the earth.

—Notwithstanding the inclement weather a good crowd attended court yesterday, but if they did anything to speak of after they came it is not on record. A few milk cows sold at public auction at $12.50 to $17.50 and several plug horses were disposed of at $20 to $42.75. W. M. Lackey bought privately of a Wayne county party 11 cattle averaging 1,014 pounds at 3½¢. S. E. Owsley withdrew 54 sheep at $2.50.

—S. L. Haskemore, our enterprising colored barber, has bought the handsome revolving and reclining World's Fair premium chair for his customers, ever brought to this town. He has a nice room, uses no tobacco or intoxicants, is polite and wishes a share of the public patronage, as he does his work cheaply and stylishly.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Livingston, of Cincinnati, are with Dr. Doorea. Mrs. Dunderar, of Rowland, was also a visitor at Dr. Doorea this week. Misses Josie Stephens and Lizzie Beazley are home for a day or two, from the Lancaster school. Dr. Ed Eates wife and baby are at Mr. John Edmiston's. Mr. W. E. Confederate Veterans.

In view of the coming re-union at Birmingham, Ala., April 25th and 26th, Gen'l J. B. Gordon, general commanding, asks that the press of the country give its aid to the patriotic and benevolent objects of the organization by publishing the date of the re-union, etc. Business of the greatest importance will be transacted at this meeting, looking to the preservation of historic records; the care of disabled and needy veterans who once wore the gray; the care of the graves of the Confederate dead, and other matters of moment. Let no veteran and no friend of the veterans fail to lend his presence at Birmingham. The Queen & Crescent Route is assisting to make this occasion a successful one by putting in a low rate of one fare for the round trip. This, when linked with the magnificent equipment and train service for which the road is noted, makes it the most desirable line to Birmingham. Some mathematician has calculated the capacity of Heaven from Revelations xxi. 16: "And He measured the city with a reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length, breadth and height are equal." The cubic contents would be 943,085,000,000,000,000,000,000 cubic feet. Supposing one-fourth of this space to be divided into rooms 16 feet square, there would be 30,321,893,750,000,000 rooms. He then allows 2,570,000,000 inhabitants to each of the 100 worlds for every century, and calculates that each of the 100 worlds may last 1,000 centuries longer, and there will yet be in Heaven 100 rooms each 16 feet square for every soul.

There are good hotels at all these resorts which open about June 1st and afford very good accommodations at reasonable rates.

There are many men whose lives have been as bad as Col. Breckinridge's who would not be as harshly judged if placed in his present position. It is not altogether his liaison with Miss Pollard that brings him universal condemnation, but it is the miserable hypocrisy of his life. The cloak of an absolutely correct life which he has affected, his pretenses of religion, public addresses to religious societies and young ladies' seminars, and palming his paramour off upon reputable people as a proper young lady, have left him no sympathizers, whereas, if he had merely been exposed in his guilty life with the woman under ordinary circumstances he would have had many—Owensboro Messenger.

Jesus So.—The scissors-grinder's sharp observation at a church class-meeting that "any man who says he can not sin and that he has reached sanctification, is a liar," was certainly a violation of the proprieties, but it can be justified by mighty good authority. John, one of the inspired writers of the Holy Scriptures, tells us that "if we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us."—Louisville Times.

T. A. Bradley, Danville, will pay the highest market price for wool. Write for prices. Wool sacks can be found at Farrie & Hardin's.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used more than half the houses in Leeds. Sims Bros., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been used for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Dr. S. The evidence is all in and the arguments are being made in the Pollard-Breckinridge case. Two speeches are to be made to the side, Calderon Carlie and Judge Wilson for Miss Pollard, and Ben Butterworth and Little Phil Thompson for Col. Breckinridge. The end is therefore nearly in sight, with a decided prospect for a hung jury. From the start the judge has shown his disgust in the case, and exhibited a feeling for the plaintiff, in which nearly everybody, both men and women who have read the evidence, joins. Whether there is a jury verdict in the case or not, the great public has formed a verdict that Miss Pollard has made out her plea for damages, and that the defendant is a self-confessed libertine and hypocrite, deserving of neither sympathy nor a further bestowal of confidence. Professing himself by his actions to be better than other men, he has been shown to be a wolf in sheep's clothing, and a Janus of the meanest type. Miss Pollard may be, and probably is, a woman as void of conscience as she is of virtue, and as unworthy of consideration as the defendant has tried to show her, yet degraded and depraved as that, she is still an angel in comparison to the hoary headed old sinner, whose crime against his family, against society and against the constituency that has so often and so gladly honored him, is made doubly heinous by the affectation of piety with which he surrounded himself, and that air of respectability which he gave his liaison by introducing his concubine into decent society. Both deserve to be banished to oblivion.

That fiery, untamed seeker for notoriety, the editor of the Blue Grass Blade, is to be prosecuted for blasphemy and Rev. E. S. Southgate, of the Methodist church Lexington, will procure the indictment. The charge is based on a most disgusting article on the birth of Christ, which is too filthy and blasphemous to bear repetition. Blasphemy is a common law offense and can be punished by any fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the jury or both, so "Charley" has a pretty good chance to look through the bars again. He, however, defies the reverend gentleman and says he "would love to see him try it on."

Judge Jenkins, who decided in the Northern Pacific wage cases that its employees have no right to strike, has been completely reversed by Judge Caldwell, of the United States Court at Omaha, in the Union Pacific cases, who holds that "organized labor is organized capital; it is capital consisting of brains and muscle, and that an agreement to which it is a party is binding. Thus do the doctors of the law disagree, and leave us still enquiring "where are we at?"

The democrats have nominated Paul Sorg, of Middletown, for Congress in the 3rd Ohio district and the race is now made up with Maj. E. H. Rathbone as the republican standard bearer. The election is to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Houk, democrat, who was elected by about 4,000 majority. Much interest is manifested in the result and fears are entertained that since everything in Ohio goes the republicans will overcome even that large majority.

The Somerset Paragon of last week contains an interesting write up of that thriving little city in the hills, together with cuts of prominent buildings and leading merchants and business men. No town in this section has grown faster in the last decade than Somerset and it is a strong and healthy growth, dependent on no boom, though an effort was made to boom it during the lamentable boom times.

In their efforts to secure suffrage the women are making progress, with a dog fall as to Massachusetts and Iowa. The former rejected the bill to confer municipal suffrage on women, while the latter has passed one giving them the right to vote for town, city and school officers, and on all questions of issuing bonds. Women, with children, have had the right to vote in Kentucky for several years.

Mr. A. J. Oasky, editor of the Owensboro Inquirer, satisfied that man should not live alone and that Paul was only half right when he said that "they that marry do well, but they that marry not do better," became a benedict on the 4th, when he lead to the altar the beautiful Miss Lida Walker, of Hartford. May long life and an unending honeymoon be theirs.

In fulfillment of his agreement with the republicans who voted with him to prevent the confirmation of Hornblower and others, Senator Hill is voting with them to delay the consideration of the tariff bill. No wonder the Campbellsville Times has torn his name and picture from its masthead and no longer advocates him for president.

Ben King, the Michigan poet and humorist, was found dead in bed at Bowling Green, presumably from heart disease, Friday night. He and Ople Read had given an entertainment there that night and he appeared in the best of spirits and apparently in the best of health. The local press gave a supper in their honor and it is related that when Mr. King found that there were just 13 at the table, he jumped up, and with a frightened expression, declined to sit down again till another person was added to the party. It was thought at the time, however, that he was in jest, but the superstitious, taking that and the fact that he recited his parody on the beautiful poem, "If I should die to-night," are further confirmed in their belief. King was comparatively a young man, being less than 35, and had never shown signs of heart disease before.

The unknown young man, who committed suicide in the Hotel Emery, Cincinnati, Friday night, had a keen sense of humor as well as a penchant for poetry. After treating the matter rather jocosely, he wrote: My reasons for this step which I am about to take is best expressed in the following: "One's fancies take us forth where many blossoms wave; But when to-morrow's sun awakes our hopes are buried in the grave." "Thus 'tis with life. I shall now take my medicine, pull the draperies of my couch about me, and lie down to a sleep of pleasant dreams."

All of the World's Fair buildings, except the Art, the Convent La Rabida, the Forestry and two smaller ones, which cost millions of dollars, were sold at auction Saturday for $75,500, and will be demolished at once, and the White City will become only a memory to be cherished forever by the 20,000,000 of people who enjoyed its beauty and the grandest collection of industrial, mechanical exhibits and curiosities ever conceived and carried into successful execution.

The democrats are gradually coming to the opinion that Speaker Reed's rule for counting a quorum was not so bad after all. Representative Springer proposes a rule that practically endorses him. It provides that the names of those present and not voting shall be entered on the journal as voting in the negative, and if these, with those voting, are a majority of all the members, a quorum shall be deemed as constituted.

The democratic Waterloo in Rhode Island is even worse than at first reported. The republicans elect the governor by over 8,000 plurality and all of the members of the legislature but five. The republicans are certainly getting their innings this year.

It is a mighty small loaf, but better than no bread. The democrats actually carried something the other day. It was the little town of Davenport, Ia., where the entire ticket was elected. We are thankful for small favors in these degenerate days.

The New York World makes the good point: Mr. Breckinridge's defense is weak in one particular. Miss Pollard frequently offered to marry him and repair the great wrong she had inflicted.

Mr. WATERSON is filling an engagement of 25 nights on the Pacific coast and filling his inside pockets with filthy lucre. His "Compromises of Life" draws like a sticking plaster.

A white infant two weeks old was found on a locomotive at Ellingham, Ill. In the basket in which the little thing was placed were two fine dresses, a blanket, a bottle of milk and a bottle of paragon.

An attempt was made to blow up with dynamite, an old negro named Dave Moore at Lawrenceburg. He was to testify on the following day against a lot of illicit whisky sellers, and it is thought that some of them planned the scheme to exterminate him. Moore was not badly hurt.

At Bourbon, Ind., Joe Kinsley and Ashley Fields made a bet of $2,000 as to who could fast the longest. Fields gave up at the end of the sixth day, but Kinsley was then still fresh and said he could have gone several days longer without great suffering. Fields lost in weight 23 pounds and Kinsley 30.

Mr. McCreary voted to pass the seigniorage bill over the president's veto. This in Washington is supposed to mean that he intends to enter the race as a candidate for speaker. The silver men will not name the next speaker, but Mr. McCreary seems to think they will name the next senator from Kentucky.—Louisville Post.

Explosions caused by fire in a fireworks factory at Petersburg, Va., killed 14 men, injured eight others, demolished the factory and started a fire that destroyed several other buildings. Among the dead are several prominent citizens, including John Bland, a tobacco manufacturer, and Chief Farley, of the fire department.

The master commissioner, of the Franklin Circuit Court, has filed his suit of the Commonwealth against the sureties of ex-Treasurer Tate. The report is considered a victory for the State, though the recovery of any part of the sum claimed by the State depends on the decision of several points of law raised by the report. The State sued for $162,000, but the utmost it can recover under the findings of the commissioner is $74,936.39.

The war in the Uniontown, Pa., coal region, is ended after several men were killed. The strike is over and ignominious defeat marks its collapse. Within the past few days the rioters from both sections of the coke fields have laid down their arms and gone peacefully to their homes. The movement was a miserable failure and not a point was gained by the men. They are in a worse condition now than before, as the companies are starting their works with English-speaking workmen to the exclusion of the foreign element.

Rape For Cows.

I have a thoroughbred Holstein cow. On Aug. 6 I sowed one pound of rape seed on a piece 165 by 18 feet, and in five weeks it was five feet high and very thick. I picketed my cow so that she could get at two feet on one corner. She looked at it, then tasted it, but did not eat much, as good grass and clover were on the border. I put her in the same place the next two days. The third day it looked as though it had been shored, it was eaten so close. After that she would eat rape before she would grass. The flow of milk increased about one-quarter, with no bad flavor. It was eaten all over three times before the cold weather prevented it from growing again.—Cor. Rural New Yorker.

Cut Versus Uncut Hay.

The value of cut and uncut hay as a ration for horses was recently made the subject of an experiment at Brisbane, Queensland, and the conclusions reached are of general interest to farmers everywhere. The experiments were conducted on a large scale, 6,000 horses being subjected to the tests. The results showed that those horses fed cut hay and ground oats made a gain of 5 per cent more than those fed uncut rations, or a saving of nearly $300 per day for the whole stable of 6,000 animals.

HORSE SHOW DAY.

The stagnation in the horse market, the rainy day and other drawbacks combined to make yesterday's display of stallions and jacks much below the average in point of number, though there were some fine ones on hand. A large crowd saw them perform, the lower end of Main street having been granted for the purpose.

Eagle Bird, E. P. Wood's premium saddle stallion, was the subject of much favorable comment. He has all of the qualities that go to make a fine saddle horse, together with a most excellent pedigree.

J. K. Baughman's William L. was shown by that splendid rider, Silas Sandridge, and made a fine impression. Nothing but his color (gray) can be urged against William L.

W. S. Garner exhibited his saddle stallion, Brignola, and won for that horse many complimentary mentions.

Sam Cochran has a splendid horse in Denmark Chief, notwithstanding he stands him at the low price of $5. He is by Hutchinson Chief, dam by Sen-tinel.

Beazley Bros. & Hays, who last year won the third tie in the $300 purse at Danville with him, have Silver Tip in splendid shape. Nels Rawland's handling last year did him lots of good, and he is now one of the best saddlers in the country.

J. S. Hughes showed Pat, a 3 year-old by Ed. Kumble.

Jesse Cook's Dillard Denmark, by Double Denmark, was greatly admired. He is a good saddle and a very fine horse. Dillard Denmark is the grandson of the great sire, Montrose.

A. M. Pence's Pence was one of the popular horses of the day. Mr. Pence did the right thing by bringing him back to his old home to make the present season.

Jim Blaine, a grandson of Garrard Chief, was shown by his owner, A. B. Coppage, of Marion.

M. S. Baughman's George Dictator, was looking fine, as was his saddle, Le Grand. The former is by the great sire Dictator 113, and the latter by Mambrino Le Grand. A handsome pair of horses or a better bred pair would be hard to find.

Logic 917, by Stonewall Jackson, and an extra fine 3-year-old, was exhibited by A. E. Hundley. He is a beautiful sorrel and a splendid mover.

Sidney Dunbar had his fine stallion, Morgan Denmark, in splendid trim and with him won additional laurels for his great sire, On Time. A splendid young horse with a good pedigree on both sides is Morgan Denmark.

A. H. Smith's Quinine S., 2:28 1/2, full brother to Geneva S., 2:19 1/2, and Mattie H., 2:11 1/2, trial 2:09, was a very popular horse. He is a fine individual and a very speedy fellow.

Took Hubble would not have been satisfied had he not had several jacks around him. He showed Joe Blackburn, the old Levi Hubble jack that brought $1,800 under the hammer, and a son of his, Joe Blackburn, Jr. They are indeed a fine pair, and Mr. Hubble had a right to feel proud of them.

Gambor, by Gambetta Wilkes, owned by Cook, Carr & Co., is not as good an individual as some of them, but few horses have better breeding or more speed.

Dick Evans showed Lighthouse, a good looking, big stallion.

The Underwood Brothers had a good string, consisting of their splendid saddle, Chancey Denmark, and two jacks, Tom Curtis and Bourbon Chief. They had a big season last year and will no doubt do likewise this year.

S. T. Harris' Onward Messenger is an unusually fine individual, and is truly a horse with a pedigree. Mr. Harris will probably put him in training after the season is over.

The splendid Hackney Imp. Count-aught, owned by the Lincoln County Horse Co., will make the season at A. F. Moberly's. The Hackney is a rather new breed in this section, but Count-aught is such a fine specimen, he will no doubt make a big season.

The following well-known stallions were conspicuous for their absence: Madison Sandidge & Son's Gilt Edge, J. Steele Carpenter's Wallace Denmark and Lexel, J. K. Baughman's Naboth and Capt. B. F. Powell's English Hunter, but they will show up in this paper.

Morgan Denmark.

Morgan Denmark is a bay stallion, 15 1/2 hands high. He is splendidly bred as a glance at his pedigree will show. He will make the season of 894 at my stable on the Danville & Lancaster pike, 1 1/2 miles North of Hubble.

At $10 to insure a Living Colt.

Care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

Morgan Denmark was foaled in 1889. He is by On Time, son of Stonewall Jackson, 1st dam, Lady Morgan, by Stonewall Jackson, 2nd dam by Virginia, 3rd dam by Matchless, 4th dam by Traubay.

Morgan Denmark is one of the best bred saddle stallions in Kentucky. Has good mane and tail and good, long, rangy neck. Don't fail to see him.

S. DUNBAR, Hubble Ky.

TREMENDOUS!

Is the most expressive word we can find in our vocabulary that will give you a conception of the extremely low prices that still prevail with us. A number of our customers have asked us how we can afford to sell goods so much lower than our competitors, whose facilities for buying and selling close are to all outward appearances as good as ours. That is where the mistake comes in; for having numerous places of business in this and other States, we necessarily buy in larger quantities and of course get closer prices. But what principally tells the tale is that we have

THE CASH.

Factories in the East need that cash; we need their goods; so in consequence we have bought at our own price and you shall have the benefit of it. Mr. J. L. ROSE, late of Junction City, is opening up a fall line of drugs, druggist sundries, etc., at Shelby City, where his friends predict he will do well.

The daily papers say that there are a lot of $20 counterfeit notes in circulation, but as bills of that denomination are so scarce in this section our people are not losing any sleep over the matter.

The negro, Jim Evans, who stole E. P. Woods' family mare and sold her for $5.50, waived an examination and was held to circuit court in $500 bond. He is good for at least a year for every dollar he sold the old mare for.

QUICK TIME.—W. H. Warren and Jim Hutton left here at 1:08 Friday and rode wheels to Lancaster in 43 minutes from court-house to court-house. They remained over there an hour or two and were back here by 3:40, making the return trip in 37 minutes.

FIRE.—Mr. Chris G. Lyons' fine barn in the West End, was destroyed by fire Saturday, together with a lot of feed, farming implements and two fine horses. His dwelling caught from the sparks but was saved by hard work. It is not known how the fire originated.

AL HITCHCOCK, the well-known real-estate man of Danville, had his left leg badly hurt while driving at that place the other day. One of the lines broke and the horse he was driving started to run. Mr. Hitchcock jumped from the sulky and received the injury above stated.

The lecture of Col. Copeland on the 24th ought to draw a crowded house, as he is said to be one of the finest speakers on the lecture platform. Up to this time the association is about $15 each "in the hole" and it will take a hundred dollar house to let them out even.

ALL KILLED.—Spire J. S. Morphy, after a careful investigation, says that the fruit, all the ones that were up and half the clover were killed by the late freeze. He states that at the lowest calculation the county has lost $10,000. The acreage prepared for corn is larger than ever before.

The fourth and last Magisterial precinct, Waynesburg, will vote on prohibition June 9th. Messrs. J. M. Cook, W. L. McCarty and E. B. Caldwell, Jr., presented a petition signed by over 40 per cent of the voters of the precinct yesterday and Judge Varnon ordered the election accordingly.

The owners of the property, Messrs. Farris & Hardin, have taken charge of the hotel vacated by Mr. Joe Coffey and will run it themselves. Both families have moved to it and they intend to keep a hotel which will be a credit to the town. It will hereafter be known by its former name—"St. Asaph."

The seventh annual inter-collegiate oratorical contest held at Lexington, was won by Enoch Grehan, representing the Kentucky University, subject "By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them," with W. M. Jackson, of Central University, a close second. Of the contests held so far Centre College, Danville, has won four, Kentucky University, two, and Georgetown College, one. This is the first time for several years that the State College has put up a man.

A YOUNG LADY, who recently attended a hop at the Lakeland Lunatic Asylum, says that she was dancing with a young inmate of the institution and the night being warm and the room close they both got considerably "overheated" and perspired freely. In order to be agreeable she remarked that it was exceedingly warm. "I am about to have a chill!" answered the inmate as he shuddered with an "ough." Seeing she had made a mistake and having been told that she must agree with everything the unfortunates said, she responded quickly: "It is really chilly to-night," while she sent up a little petition for the Lord to forgive her for such a fib. This reminds us to say that there is a young lady in town who would suit exactly for such a dilemma. She is the most agreeable person we have ever seen, having been known to agree to five almost opposite remarks about the weather in a short conversation. Somebody is missing a mighty good wife

OBSERVING.—We will have a display of millinery goods next Friday and Saturday, 13th and 14th, to which the ladies are invited. Mrs. Kate Buhldar.

FIFTY citizens of the West End were summoned to go to Somerset yesterday to serve as jurors in the case of Doolin and Cope for killing Deputy Sheriff Watson, a couple of years ago.

The weather has been chilly and rainy for several days. Yesterday was a very nasty day for the court visitors, but they were here in great numbers. "Fair, colder Tuesday," is the prediction for today.

We have just received another lot of sample shoes and slippers, button and lace, black, tan and colored, worth $3 and $4; will be sold at $1.98. Sizes 2 to 5, A. B. C. D. E. & F. E. Lests. B. F. Jones & Son.

The birthdays of Henry Clay, Hon. J. B. Paxton, the writer and some other great men were on April 12. Mr. Clay doesn't take much interest in such matters now, the writer thinks the less said about the matter the better, but Mr. Paxton is married and don't care. He will, therefore, celebrate his anniversary in due and ancient form.

The city council at its last meeting very properly extended the time for the payment of taxes without the penalty till June 1. An effort was made to get Mayor S. G. Hocker to remit the fine of $2 assessed against Dr. VanArsdale for refusing to sit down when ordered to do so, but without avail, so a resolution disapproving of the fine and the mayor's action was introduced by Councilman J. S. Hughes and passed by a vote of 3 to 1.

J. S. McWILLIAMS, who used to be a merchant at O. K. this county, was sent to the penitentiary for one year by the Pulaski court, we learn from the Reporter. He was found guilty of maliciously shooting a child of W. H. Gooch. He went to his home at night and fired into it, striking the child. McWilliams with but little to start on, has been going from bad to worse for some time. The first rascally business that we knew him guilty of was to get money here on his check on a Somerset bank, where he had no money. He however, remitted the amount on being threatened with prosecution.

KATIE DEAN.—This pretty little opera was given in a very pleasing manner at Walton's Opera House, Saturday night by the pupils of Christian College, Hustonville, assisted by some outside talent. It was one of the smoothest amateur entertainments we ever enjoyed, there being no hitch or mistake, except that the red lights did not last long enough and the effect of a beautiful tableau was marred by an inexperienced banding of the electric lights, to which Prof. M. G. Thomson referred in a humorous way in his speech of thanks before the curtain arose on the last act. Miss Emma Moore, who took the title role, is entitled to the highest praise. She has a sweet voice of remarkable volume, and her singing an acting were splendid, not even considering her youth and "first appearance on any stage." Miss Emma Pruitt rendered her character admirably and sang very sweetly a verse or two from "Home Sweet Home." Miss Katie Moore's "Biddy McCune" was well given and she sang and acted her part very skillfully. J. B. Cook was a typical coachman; J. W. North as an INTERIOR JOURNAL reporter distinguished himself, while C. L. Pruitt made a fine policeman. Mr. W. A. Dinwiddie, as the "Butler" divided the honors of the evening with the star and proved himself an actor and a vocalist of much ability. Among those who took part in the chorus and added to the general effect of the performance were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Riffe, Misses Alice Drye, Mary Adams, Minnie Eubanks, Etha VanArsdale and Ethyl Wright. After the first act Mrs. J. B. Riffe, who is possessed of a sweet voice and great personal beauty, and Mr. Tilden Cook sang "Oalm as the Night" in so pleasing a manner as to be forced to respond to an encore. Mr. Tilden Cook sang the "Answer" afterwards and was loudly applauded. The entire entertainment was greatly enjoyed, its excellence being due in a large measure to Miss Margaret A. Bennett, the accomplished music teacher at Christian College, who drilled the performers and played the accompaniments so excellently, and she has reason to feel very proud of her work.

JOHN B. SMITH asks us to correct the report that he kept several parties from voting at the recent election at Turnersville. He says there is no earthly grounds for such a report.

An application for an election on the whisky question in Rowland will be heard before Judge Varnon this morning, it being claimed that the new law gives incorporated towns the right to hold such election regardless of the district.

The election for directors of the Crab Orchard and Danville turnpike Saturday resulted in Mr. F. T. Logan being elected in place of Hon. G. A. Lackey. The other directors are J. S. Bowley, J. W. Gneet, J. H. McAlister, John Bright and J. S. Owsley. State Inspector W. H. Gardner was here and voted the State's stock.

There will be a swell wedding in the colored circles to-morrow night. Mrs. Anne Givens, widow of the late Rev. Harrison Givens, will be joined in wedlock's holy bond to Rev. Pattison, a Baptist preacher of Louisville. The ceremony will take place at the Baptist church, which is being decorated for the occasion.

The County Court yesterday granted merchant's license to sell liquors to Trowbridge & Adams, distillers, on Fishing Creek. The applications of W. S. Drye and Russell & Riffe for liquor licenses at Hustonville occupied the attention of Judge Varnon all the afternoon. The protesters claim that there are 103 voters in the town and show 54 names on their paper. The applicants say there are 106 voters, and that four of the 54 names should come off the list. No decision was reached, and the case was continued till Wednesday, when Judge Shelton's application at Rowland will also be heard. Under the charters, Col. Welch claims that the city council has exclusive control of the license question, and it is mandatory on the county clerks to issue license when they are so ordered.

The nomination of the negro Taylor for recorder of deeds in the District of Columbia has been rejected by the Senate Committee.

Georgia is second in rice and sweet potatoes, third in cotton, fourth in sugar, seventh in horses and mules and 10th in hogs.

Reports from the fruit growing section of New York say that in the main trees and vines wintered well, and that for the most part the recent cold weather damaged only the peach crop.

Master Commissioner R. C. Warren sold the Ben Blackerby land on Dix river yesterday. Mrs. Fannie Ball got the traction over 13 acres at $55, and S. M. Spoonamore 149 9-20 acres at $52.25, and Dr. Traylor holloed "Hurrah for Hubble!" The commissioner sold several other smaller farms, but they were all bought by the plaintiffs to save their debts.
